Advertising Vending Machines

Generate additional income by selling ad space on screens to local businesses!

We are excited to introduce ourselves using new technology with vending screens and enable vending operators to earn not just from vending machine sales but also from secondary revenue through profitable ad sales!

At Vending Media Inc., we are passionate about merging cutting-edge technology with the traditional vending machine experience. We understand that catching the attention of potential customers is crucial in today's fast-paced world, which is why we have developed state-of-the-art advertising screens specifically designed for vending machines. Our team of brilliant engineers and designers has worked tirelessly to create a seamless integration between our advertising screens and vending machines. These screens not only enhance the visual aesthetics of the machine itself, but they also provide a dynamic platform to showcase your brand and products. Gone are the days of static and monotonous vending machine displays. With our advertising screens, you have the power to captivate your audience through vibrant visuals, eye-catching animations, and engaging content.

Our Story Vending Media Inc.

At Vending Media Inc., we specialize in delivering customized, cost-effective vending machines backed by top-tier support, one unit at a time. Our wholesale partner (BD) has been operating since 2013 with extensive experience in manufacturing and wholesaling and also passed the international ISO9001. Our partner manufacturer has won the Asia Pacific self-service vending enterprise award. We're now bringing this advanced technology to individuals eager to start their own business in North America. Whether you're a seasoned entrepreneur or just beginning your journey, our expertise and commitment to quality ensure your success in the vending industry.

We set ourselves apart in the marketplace by offering vending machines equipped with digital screens that can sell ads. This unique feature not only enhances the customer experience but also provides an additional revenue stream for our clients. By integrating advertising opportunities directly into our machines, we help businesses maximize their earning potential while delivering cutting-edge technology.

Vending Media Inc. has been an partner with a trusted leader (BD) in the wholesaling industry across North America for the since 2013. Recognizing a significant gap in the market for high-quality vending machines paired with exceptional customer support, Vending Media Inc. developed a business model tailored to meet the needs of both aspiring entrepreneurs and established business owners. Our commitment to innovation, reliability, and customer satisfaction has positioned us as a go-to resource for those looking to succeed in the vending industry. At Vending Media Inc., we empower businesses with the tools and support they need to thrive. Please review below our supplier (BD)'s Awards and Certifications of our machine and quality control.

Our Story & Team Culture

We started our vending journey with one clear goal: to help everyday people launch their own business through a high-value, low-barrier opportunity. Since then, we've grown into a full-service operation with a dedicated team supporting every stage — from sales and project management to technical support.

Our in-house technicians offer dependable, same-timezone service, ensuring our clients always have the help they need, when they need it. We proudly serve as the bridge between manufacturing and local entrepreneurs, making it simple and accessible for anyone to enter the vending industry with confidence.

At the heart of our company is a strong, diverse team — blending fresh, vibrant talent with seasoned veterans in the vending space. We celebrate the energy, innovation, and commitment each member brings to the table.

We look forward to building long-term relationships and supporting all your vending needs for years to come.

Why Vending Machine Ads?

Does Vending Advertising Work?

Absolutely! Vending machine screens advertising has proven to be a highly effective and impactful method of promoting products and engaging with customers. Let's explore why it works and the benefits it offers.

Bold marketing while customers place orders

Take a look at our vending machine's advertising screen! We can display ads on 1/3 of the screen while customers place their orders, ensuring high visibility. The top area of the machine can feature both image and video ads, capturing customer attention and enhancing your brand's visibility or driving sales. Additionally, we can integrate a QR code into the ads, allowing customers to quickly and easily access your information.

Vending machine screens advertising grabs attention. Traditional vending machines typically have static displays or simple product listings, which can easily blend into the surroundings.

However, with dynamic and vibrant digital screens, your brand and message stand out in the bustling environment. Eye-catching visuals, animations, and interactive content captivate the audience, drawing their attention to your products and promotions.

Moreover, vending machine screens advertising provides an opportunity for targeted marketing. By strategically placing vending machines in specific locations, you can reach your intended audience precisely where they are.

For example, if your target demographic is young professionals, you can position your advertisements with our machine in office complexes or shopping centers frequented by this group.

Full Screen Ads while machine idles

This full-screen ad feature captures 100% of the attention of customers passing by or approaching the machine. The 21-inch screen can display both image and video ads, providing maximum brand exposure for your business.

You can use the screen to offer special discounts, offers, news for private location use or you can use it to display local businesses and earn revenue from them.

Vending machine that offers screen advertising enhances the overall customer experience. By transforming the vending machine into an interactive and visually appealing platform, you create a memorable interaction with your audience. This positive experience can lead to increased brand loyalty and customer satisfaction, fostering long-term relationships with your target audience.

In conclusion, advertising using this method is a powerful tool that works. It captivates attention, provides targeted marketing opportunities, offers flexibility, gathers valuable data, and enhances the customer experience.

This machine offers a unique opportunity for your advertisers to connect with potential customers, fostering long-lasting business relationships.

If you're looking for an opportunity to earn 2 streams of income in one, consider Vending Media. From the beginning of first contact the support and communication has been superb. And after receiving my machines continued support has been great, helping me to setup my machines to helping me find locations for placement.

Wen Pin from Toronto, ON Canada

Vending Media made starting my own vending business smooth and stress free. They provided high advertising screen that increases earnings, delivered it quickly and even helped me find a prime location. Their support in setting up the machine and moving it into place was invaluable. I highly recommend them to anyone serious about getting into vending.

Garrett from Princeton, New Jersey

Working with Jack and his team has been an incredible experience from start to finish. Their professionalism, efficiency, and attention to detail made the entire process seamless for us at AFG Vending. The quality of our vending machines- both in performance and custom design— has truly exceeded our expectations. Jack guided us through every step with clarity and care, making it one of the best decisions we've made for our business. We're excited to continue growing our partnership and can't recommend them highly enough for their outstanding client service and commitment to excellence.
